Subject: Online Teaching and Assessment Arrangement during Suspension of Classes at Campus

Further to the email sent to all students and staff on 27 January 2020, please note that all classes at the campus have been suspended after the Chinese New Year holidays, and will resume on Monday, 17 February 2020.

Examinations originally scheduled after the Chinese New Year holidays will be postponed. Detailed arrangements about the examinations, online teaching and learning, make-up classes, other teaching activities as well as the revised academic calendars of CIHE and CBCC for the 2019-20 academic year will be announced in due course. This special arrangement will substitute the regular face-to-face teaching during the suspension of classes in order to enable students to complete their courses and assessments within the semester.

Individual instructors will announce detailed arrangements for course delivery and assessment on Moodle for the period from 3 – 16 Feb 2020. Students are reminded to check regularly on the announcements on Moodle or email sent from the course coordinator of individual courses on the specific online teaching and e-learning activities which students are required to participate during the period of suspension of on-campus classes.

Thank you for your kind attention.
